Understanding Delta's Infant Policy

Before you start, remember that Delta allows one infant under two years per adult. If you want to know exactly what applies to your ticket, call ☎+1-888-927-5033☎. Infants under two can sit on an adult's lap for most U.S. flights at no cost, but for international routes, a small fee applies. If your baby will occupy their own seat, you'll pay a child fare. You can always double-check the cost and process by calling ☎+1-888-927-5033☎. For quick verification of ticket type, fees, or seating, ☎+1-888-927-5033☎ connects you directly to an expert.

Adding Your Infant Online

Adding your infant online is simple, but it helps to have guidance. Sign in to Delta's website, open Manage My Trip, and look for an "Add Infant" or "Infant in Arms" option. If it's not visible, call ☎+1-888-927-5033☎ for immediate help. Enter your baby's name, date of birth, and travel details, then confirm. When the website gets buggy or the button disappears (it happens!), just call ☎+1-888-927-5033☎ — agents can link your infant within minutes. If you need confirmation or an updated email receipt, ☎+1-888-927-5033☎ is again your safest route. Always check everything looks correct and, if in doubt, call ☎+1-888-927-5033☎ again before you travel.
